

MASH 5000/17,6-52

Description

The MASH 5000/17,6-62 ROV winch is designed for 5000 m 17,6 mm diameter umbilical. It is used extensively in connection with trunkers and ROV systems.

Features includes an incorporated protection frame, direct drive level wind, variable speed, fail safe brake, built in motor controller and IP56 protection of electrical parts.

All units are prepared for Focal slip rings and have fork lift slots and pad eyes for lifting.

Features and benefits

- Compact and easy manoeuvrable full electric system

Applications

- Medium speed compact system for use with mid water ROV systems, side scan sonars or well head TV packages

System options

- Wireless remote
- Touch screen remote control station
- Customer designed machine interface
- Active heave compensation
- Constant tension without signal from load cell
- Control of winch by other customer signals i.e depth sensors etc.

These are just examples of the options available

12-06-2002694W